Founded in 1980, the Center for Accelerated Learning is an organization that is committed to fostering the growth of accelerated learning methods and philosophies in training and education. Director Dave Meier is considered a pioneer in applying accelerated learning to corporate training worldwide. The Accelerated Learning Training Method offers a total system for speeding and enhancing both the design process and the learning process. It provides organizations with a tried and true method of greatly reducing course design time while significantly improving the effectiveness of learning. Through their workshops, software, and materials they offer the most advanced teaching/learning technology in use today. It's a proven method to make learning more effective while saving both time and money. The tools they provide help to speed and enhance learning in organizations.
